

Local Solutions Provider Requires Scalable Cloud Based Disaster Recovery Solution

“SymetriQ were the natural choice for us for a secure UK based Cloud solution. The SymetriQ Cloud solution reduces cost and the easy to use GUI enables us to deliver solutions to customers much more quickly than with other cloud providers”
- James Cooke, Owner

Company Profile

- Cooke IT are a Glasgow based IT Service Provider.
- The organisation was formed in 2009.
- Cooke IT focus mainly on SMB organisations.
- Cooke IT Operate mainly in Scotland
- The company also operates within the Education sector..

The Challenge

Cooke IT required a cost effective Disaster Recovery and backup solution for their clients due to increased demand for off-site backup/DR. As data continues to grow within organizations of all sizes, traditional backup methods such as tape backup are struggling to cope with the volumes and increased expectancy on recovery times. For legislative reasons, it was vital for Cooke IT to ensure that data was located in the UK. Also, from a support point of view, it was important that their infrastructure provider also had technical and support staff in the UK providing 24/7 support.

The Solution

Cooke IT opted for a Cloud Based Backup and Disaster Recovery solution, using the SymetriQ Cloud and Storegrid software Providers for Backup/DR. Now, when a customer decides to opt for the Cooke IT Backup and Disaster recovery solution, this can be deployed immediately with minimal cost. The flexibility of the SymetriQ Cloud benefits Cooke IT by offering the ability to scale resources up and down, on demand as and when this is required. Unlike many other Cloud Providers, SymetriQ can guarantee that data will remain in the UK and also that support is provided 24/7 from our UK based support teams.

The Business Benefits

By using the SymetriQ Cloud, Cooke IT eliminated upfront cost on hardware requirements for their Backup and Disaster Recovery Solution. Time to deploy is reduced down to a few minutes, freeing up engineers and keeping customers happy. As with any true Cloud solution customers pay only for the resources which they use, with the ability to scale up on-demand when the Disaster Recovery environment needs to be brought online.
